

ENE3608 Comic Book 2020

Group 4

HOW MALAYSIA BECOME GREAT AGAIN

Creative Design and Story By:

Dora Lawrencia

Lee Wei Chen

Ng Chun Heng

Quah Han Huey

Tan Cheng Yong

Thanussan Sundaramoorthy

Wennie Yapit

As Part of the class assignment for ENE3608 2020

Idea inspired and developed by

Dr. Poovarasi Balan

Mr. Stripes, who is working as a founder of Kelantan Agro, is going to work as usual in a busy city.

The children are playing outside happily without any worry.

Mr. Stripes is having a meeting with his colleagues about the land reclamation project.

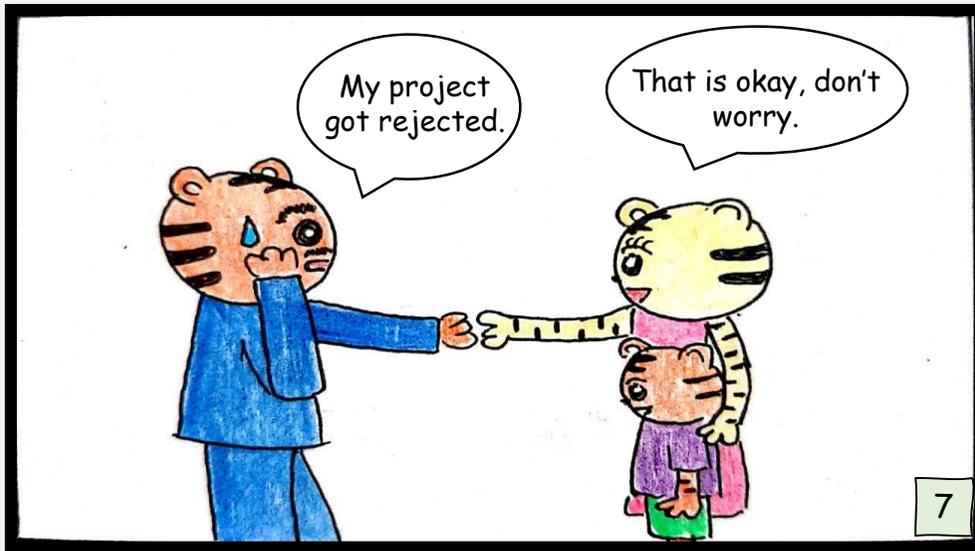

Mr. Stripes' secretary is busy with the deadlines for the submission of documents for project approval.

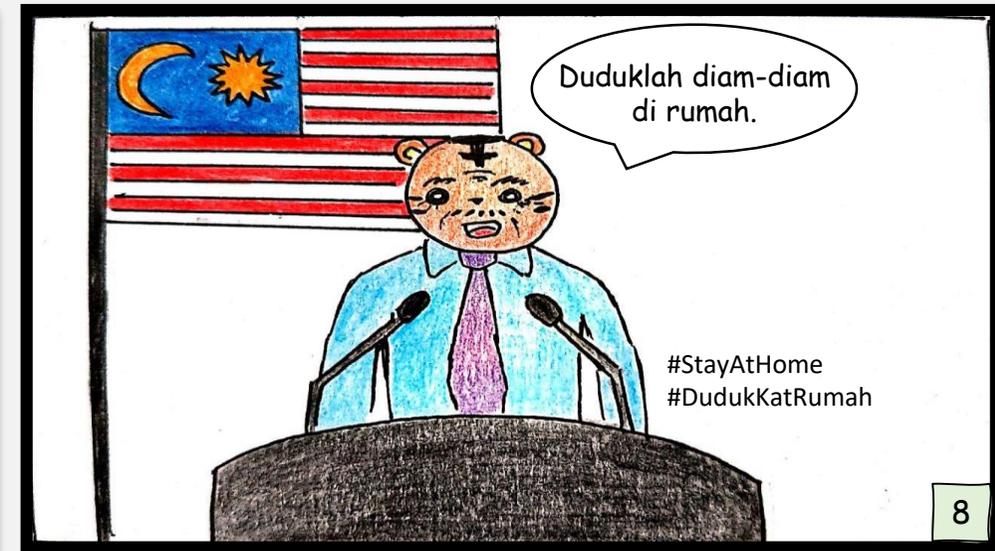

Unfortunately, the project is met with fierce protest from the villagers.

Through thick and thin, the proposed project is rejected.

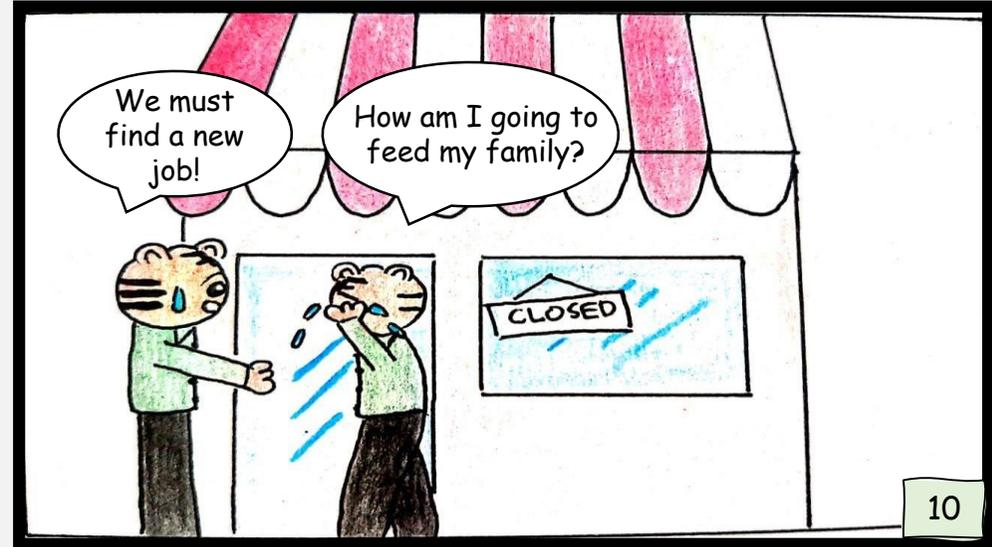

Mr. Stripes feels sad, because his proposal does not acquire approval from the villagers.

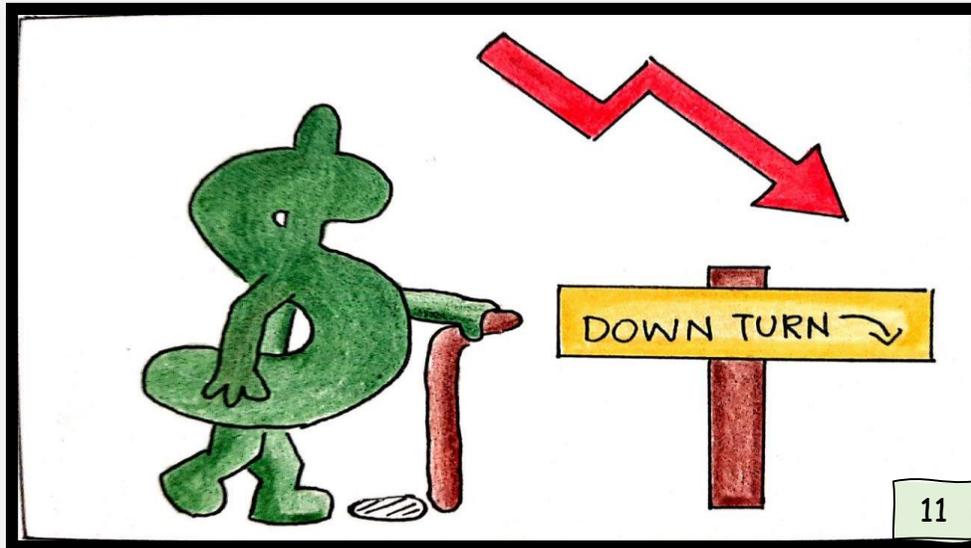

Due to the pandemic, the government implemented the Movement Control Order (MCO) in the country.

Most people had to stay at home to obey the MCO. Only those working in vital sectors are allowed to go to work.

Many shops remained closed as business are prohibited. Many became unemployed during this MCO period.

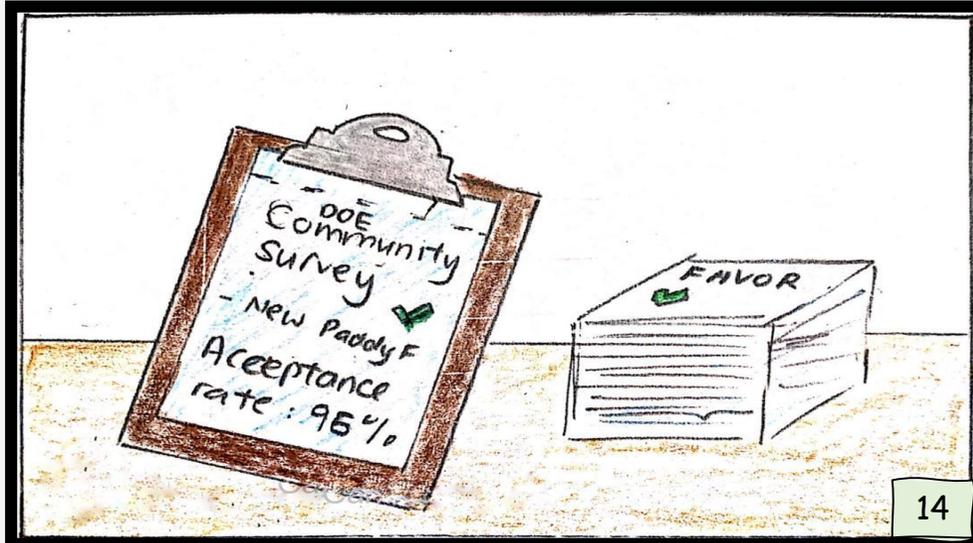

The continuation of MCO leads to steeper economic downturn and a huge recession in economy.

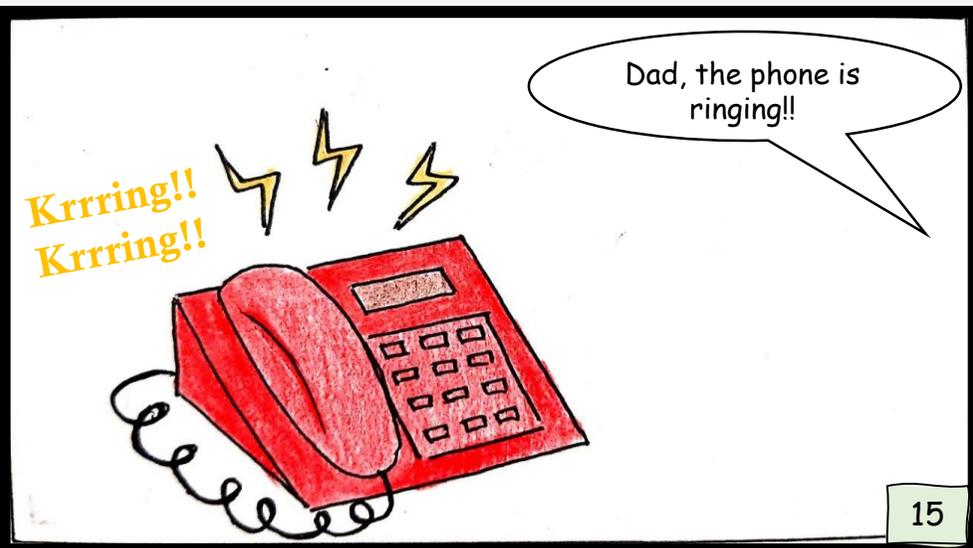

The prime minister chairs an emergency cabinet meeting in an attempt to solve the current nation's crisis.

The prime minister states measures to rebuild the nation's economy through agricultural sector which becomes the top priority after MCO.

The community realizes the project would benefit them by providing employment opportunities. The community also accept the project.

On a fine day, the house phone rang.

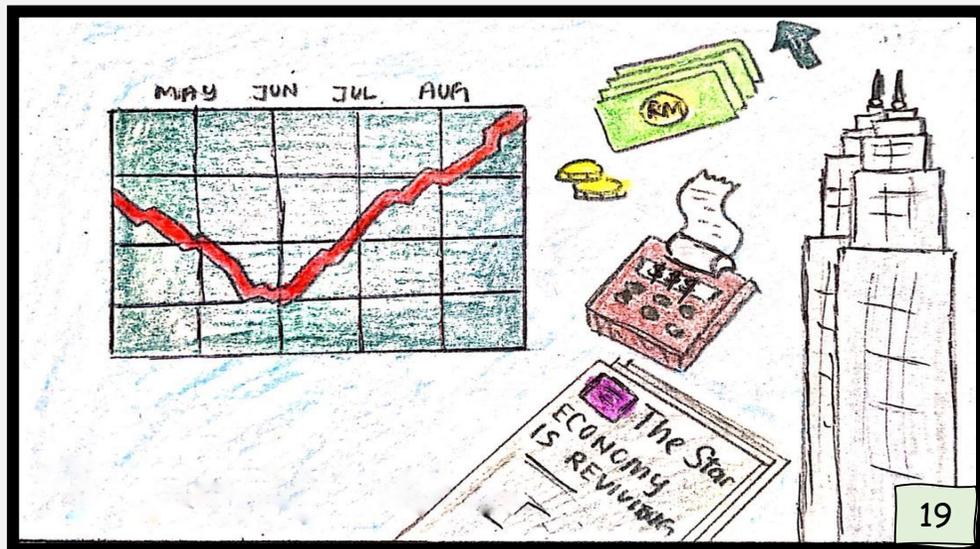

Mr. Stripes is extremely delighted with the news that the land reclamation project is approved.

Mr. Stripes explains to his curious son about the benefits of land reclamations for Malaysia. Now, Mr. Stripe is happy.

The villagers who are previously unemployed now work in the paddy field.

The land reclamation has brought in many local investors and helped in restoring the Malaysian economics.

Kelantan Agro Sdn Bhd becomes the biggest paddy supplier in the country.

Synopsis

Everyone is living a normal life before covid-19 hits Malaysia. Malaysian government implements Movement Control Order (MCO) to deal with the situation. Everyone's life changed. Businesses are affected, animals lost their job.

Mr. Stripes proposed a land reclamation project to make a paddy field in Kelantan State. However, the community there opposed the project. So the project was rejected. Mr. Stripes was depressed.

For Malaysia to recover from impaired economic growth, the Prime Minister announced measures to rebuild the country by focusing on agricultural sector as Malaysia has ample of fertile land and rich in natural resources.

Soon, Mr. Stripes received a call saying that the community of Kelantan changed their mind as they realized the value and they wanted the proposed project to take place. This news lift Mr. Stripes spirit up and he shares the good news to his son.

Since the country followed the direction and focused on developing the agricultural sector, by working together, Malaysia is able to escape from economic crisis and recover.

Malaysia is great again!